How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, torpid liver, constipation, etc., I hardly ever see anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

Admission of Women to Yale.

After a vigorous review of the obstacles which have opposed the higher education of women in this country, President Dwight, of Yale, explains that the graduate courses at Yale have been opened to both sexes, and is careful to add that by this action "the university does not propose to introduce changes in the undergraduate life or to institute any new system which will in any sense establish what is called coeducation."

Just what Yale has done, President Dwight explains as follows:

The authorities of this university have not attempted in connection with their action to decide the question of the best possible method of carrying forward undergraduate education for the two sexes under all circumstances. They have observed and considered the existing facts, and in view of them have taken what they believe to be a desirable course for all the highest interests in the case. The decision to which they have come is to open the graduate or, as they are frequently called, the post-graduate courses of study leading to the degree of doctor of philosophy to candidates of both sexes.

The number of such exceptional cases in the past has been very small, the whole body of students in these courses, substantially, being college graduates. No others have been admitted whose progress and attainments have not been ascertained to be abundantly sufficient to qualify them for pursuing the studies, and also for putting them on equal terms with their associates who have obtained the bachelor's degree. The young women, accordingly, who will be received will be of an age and at a stage of development and progress which are beyond the undergraduate period. They will be, like the young men of the graduate department, persons who are giving themselves to special studies much after the same manner as professional students who devote themselves to the work of the professional schools.

Forum.

Mrs. Drayton and the Astor Will.

The ignoring of Mrs. Coleman Drayton in the will of her father, the late William Astor, has been a severe shock to the lady's many friends. Just how it has affected Mrs. Drayton herself is not definitely known, but it is surmised that it is something of a shock to her. In any event, it has "set society agog."

It has also created an immense amount of sympathy for Mrs. Drayton, and served to intensify the popular feeling against the Astor system of will making. If it were any family other than the Astors the will would undoubtedly be contested, as it ought to be. It has not been proved that Mrs. Drayton is guilty under the indictment found against her, and however much the stories may affect her standing with the family, they do not greatly disturb her legal status as an heir.

No act that the late William Astor could have committed in the matter of disposing of his estate could have been more unexpected than this, and scarcely more unpopular. Mrs. Drayton, suddenly plunged from her exalted position in society, is staggering under a heavy cross, and this slight from her father no doubt adds to it a hundred fold. To be sure the $850,000 which she was to have received will go to her children, and Mrs. Drayton says she has already received large sums of money "on account," and is satisfied. But her friends know that she is putting as good a face on the matter as possible.

It is well for Mrs. Drayton that she drew largely on her share during the lifetime of her father, otherwise she would have fared badly. As she gets nothing in the will, the clause which disinherits the heir who makes a contest has no terrors for her. She is disinherited if she does and disinherited if she doesn't.—John A. Cockerill in New York Recorder.

Miss Sybil Sanderson, daughter of Judge Sanderson, of San Francisco, is the only soprano in the world who makes higher tones than Patti. She is a tall, willowy girl, with a throat like a white pillar, gold blond hair and black eyes.

Soon the frou frou and the laugh of the untidy, unwholesome and altogether unseemly pavement trail will be gone, and to whisper a secret, nobody will be quite so glad as the woman who wore it.—Exchange.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The Tascara Times Review is published in a community which is almost exclusively dependent upon silver mining for support. It clung to Republicanism until thoroughly convinced that Harrison, like Cleveland, was completely controlled by the money kings of Europe and their agents in the United States. The Silver party banner now floats at its mast head and it is doing good service for the people. In a recent issue it asks: "Are the candidates for county offices this fall on the old party tickets going to endorse the Harrison-Cleveland Wall Street platform, or are they going to be men and stand on a free coinage platform? It is time to begin thinking of these things. Such matters are not going to be handled with gloves."

It is not human nature for those who are opposing Harrison and Cleveland, as enemies of the State, to support men for office who advocate their election. If the candidates for local offices endorse Cleveland or Harrison, they, too, should be classed as enemies of the State, and defeated. No Nevada should support either Harrison or Cleveland for President, and the candidate who does so should be overwhelmingly defeated at the polls.

Hon. Thomas Wren, speaking for the Silver party, said the silver men would treat the old parties generously if they behaved themselves. It will certainly be deemed bad behavior on their part to endorse enemies of the State for the highest office in the gift of the people and when they do so it remains for the Silver men to nominate a full ticket and elect it. The people are not in a mood to be trifled with this year. They see through the disguises heretofore used to deceive them and have made up their minds that a citizen of the State who will not support a free coinage candidate for President against the Wall Street candidates is not worthy of their suffrages and should receive no office of profit or trust from the voters of Nevada.

A MANLY DECLARATION.

In the debate on the Stewart Silver bill in the House of Representatives as reported in the Congressional Record of Thursday, July 14th, in the two minutes' time allowed Representative Bartine of Nevada, that gentleman said among other things:

"I simply desire to say that when the demand for the previous question is made, I shall vote against it for the same reasons as those given by the gentleman from Missouri, Mr. Bland. I look upon the question of the free coinage of silver as being more important than the success of any political party. I regard it as a great question of principle; and for that reason I want it to come before this House in such a way that we can obtain substantial results."

What do the Harrison men here in Nevada think of that? Mr. Bartine admits, what no honest, intelligent man in the State will deny, that the free coinage of silver is of more importance than the success of any political party and if he has the courage of his convictions and declares against the Wall Street nominees in Nevada as he has against their principles in Congress, no objection could be made by the friends of silver to his re-election.

GOOD ADVICE.

The Walker Lake Bulletin, heretofore Republican, now an advocate of the Silver party says:

"The Republican State Central Committee has issued a call for a meeting of its members, presumably to fix the time of holding a State Convention at Reno. Would it not be well for the Republicans throughout the State to hold mass meetings and express their feeling in reference to the subject of the State Convention endorsing the nominees of the Silver Party of Nevada? The Republican State Convention should not place a Presidential electoral ticket in the field."

Foster, who occupies the place made vacant by the resignation of Secretary Blaine, says that the United States and Chile have agreed upon an indemnity to be paid on account of the assault on the crew of the Baltimore. The heirs of the two sailors who were killed and the members of the crew who were wounded will receive $75,000.

Governor Foote, of Montana, is opposed to Cleveland's Wall Street Policy. He was elected on the Democratic ticket but he advocated in a speech in the Helena Mining Congress, independent political action by the silver States.

NO GOLD RUGS THERE.

As people are said to be known by the company they keep, some idea may be formed of the financial policy of a President by the men he has in his Cabinet. The Silver State has been informed by a gentleman who is in the confidence of General Weaver that he intends, if elected, to issue a special message to Congress immediately after his inauguration requesting that the infamous demonetization Act of 1873 be repealed, and that the following named statesmen will constitute his Cabinet:

Hon. Walter Q. Gresham of Indiana, Secretary of State; Hon. William M. Stewart of Nevada, Secretary of the Treasury; Hon. Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado, Secretary of War; General Paul Vandervoort of Nebraska, Postmaster General; Hon. R. A. Pierce of Tennessee, Attorney General; T. V. Powderly of Pennsylvania, Secretary of the Navy; General A. J. Warner of Ohio, Secretary of the Interior; Hon. Jerry Simpson of Kansas, Secretary of Agriculture.

The people of Georgia are indignant at the defeat of the free coinage bill, and Colonel A. G. Daniels, says General Weaver will carry the State by 80,000 majority. The Republican State Convention will reconvene August 10th, to form a fusion with the People's party against Cleveland. There are two People's party Representatives now in Congress from Georgia and the number will be increased next election.

Governor Tillman and United States Senator Irby of South Carolina are heading the People's party movement in South Carolina. They are out for Weaver and free coinage and against the Wall Street nominees. A large majority of the whites and tens of thousands of colored voters are for the People's candidate and the nine electoral votes of the State are going for Weaver.

The Denver News appeals to the people of the silver States to be at least consistent. Let us not cry for better times and free coinage and vote for hard times and men who are pledged to the continued demonetization of silver. If we want more money in circulation let us vote for it.

THE MILITARY ENCAMPMENT.

The Nevada National Guard to Report at Carson.

The encampment of the Nevada State Militia will take place near Carson, commencing August 22d and lasting about a week. The last Legislature appropriated $6,000 to carry on this encampment, and it will doubtless be a great benefit to the National Guard. The recent troubles in different parts of the Union show what an important factor the State militia is in maintaining law and order, and how much better home soldiers are in preserving the peace than Pinkerton's ruffians. Every State in the Union spends large sums of money annually on their militia, and during certain seasons of the year are ordered into camp. During the encampment they are under constant military discipline and are practiced in the various maneuvers of war. Nevada, as yet, has never had such an encampment, and the one so soon to take place will be watched with a great deal of interest. Each officer is ordered to report fully armed and equipped and to provide himself with two pair of blankets, tents, rations, etc., to be provided by the State. First Lieutenant J. M. Neal, 4th U. S. Cavalry, has been ordered by the War Department to attend the encampment and report the condition of the Nevada militia.

Company "C," Reno Guards, are putting forth an earnest effort to make as good a showing as possible. They have appointed a committee of officers to request all those who happen to be employing members of the Company to agree to let them off during the encampment so that they may not be obliged to forfeit their positions while obeying the laws of the State. The Company hopes and expects to receive the support of all good citizens, and in such a cause it will not be denied them.

The Spleen—Not the ill-humor you feel like venting upon some offender, but the spleen near the stomach, which supplies the proper amount of blood to the stomach during digestion. But both are affected by a torpid liver. A torpid liver excites the spleen (ill-humor) and destroys the bodily organs; but an active liver, promoted by Simmons Liver Regulator, destroys the spleen (ill-humor) and excites to right action the digestive powers—then no more dyspepsia, constipation or biliousness.

Cleveland and Stevenson Notified of Their Nomination by Chairman Wilson of West Virginia.

New York, July 20.—Madison Square Garden was packed to-night with people intent on witnessing the ceremonies attendant upon the notification of Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson of their nomination. The vast amphitheatre was decorated much like the National Convention hall, and between 15,000 and 20,000 people assembled. While awaiting the arrival of the guests the audience passed the time in cheering for Cleveland, Stevenson and Governor Flower and singing campaign songs. When the meeting was called to order the notification speech was rendered by Chairman Wilson. Cleveland's reply was cheered throughout.

New York, July 20.—Following is a synopsis of the speech of Chairman Wilson of West Virginia, notifying Cleveland of his nomination:

Mr. Wilson said that beside bringing a notification from the Democratic party, the committee also charged him with the duty of presenting its platform of principles which in all its utterances is merely a declaration of the one great principle, that whatever governments and laws can do for people must be done for all people without precedence of section or grade of citizenship. Mr. Wilson said, "in the midst of a career deserving of the highest honors, and which will receive the highest encomiums that history can award, you were struck down because, as a Democrat, you could make no terms with those who wished to plunder the people's treasury and perpetuate passions of civil strife. Your countrymen will right that wrong, we can assure you. There are no weary or despondent Democrats in the ranks to-day and with the people's cause as our cause, we doubt not you will lead us to a glorious triumph."

Cleveland's Reply.

New York, July 20.—Following is a synopsis of Cleveland's reply to the Notification Committee to-night:

Mr. Cleveland referred to the responsibility of the Democratic party in the coming campaign and said that if the responsibility is great the party is strong and its sympathy with the needs of the people, and in willingness to risk its life and hope upon the people's intelligence and patriotism. He declared that never had a great party a better incentive for effort than that now presented. He said: "Turning our eyes to the plain people in our land, we see them burdened as consumers with a tariff system that unjustly and relentlessly demands from the necessities of life, an amount scarcely to be met by the wages of hard and steady toil, while exactions thus wrong from them build up and increase the fortunes of those for whose benefit this injustice is perpetuated. We see the farmer listening to the delusive story that fills his mind with visions of advantage, while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand of high protection; our workmen are still told a tale of repeated spite of its demonstrated falsity, that the existing protective tariff is a boon to them and that under its beneficent operation their wages must increase. While they listen, scenes are enacted in every abiding place of high protection, that mock the hopes of toil and attest the tender mercy the workingman receives from those made selfish and sordid by unjust governmental favoritism."

Mr. Cleveland continued: "Ours is not a destructive party. We are not recklessly heedless of any American interest, nor will we abandon our regard for them, but we insist that no plan of tariff legislation shall be tolerated which has for its object and purpose forced contributions from the earnings and income of the mass of our citizens to swell the accumulations of a favored few." In regard to the Force bill, Cleveland said in part, "we have also assumed the duties of opposing to death another avowed scheme of our adversaries, which, under guise of protecting suffrage, covers, but does not conceal, a design whereby to perpetuate the power of a party afraid to trust its continuance to the untrammelled and intelligent votes of the American people. The attempt to enforce such legislation would rekindle animosities and replace prosperous activity with discouragement and dread throughout a large section of the country and would menace the rights reserved to the States and people which underlie the safeguards of American liberty."

"To the troubled and impatient within our membership," continued Mr. Cleveland, "we commend unwavering allegiance to the party, Defeat in the pending campaign, followed by the consummation of legislative schemes, our opponents contemplate, and accompanied by such other incidents of their success as might more firmly fix their power, would present most discouraging outlooks for future Democratic supremacy and for the accomplishment of the objects we have at heart."

Mr. Cleveland concluded: "Let us tell the people plainly and honestly what we believe and how we propose to serve the interests of the entire country, and then let us, after the manner of true Democracy, rely on the thoughtfulness of our fellow countrymen."

Reception Accorded Burgess McLuckie. HOMESTEAD, July 20.—A triumphal reception was accorded Burgess McLuckie when, after his release from imprisonment in the Pittsburg jail, he arrived this afternoon at Homestead. The Borough Council was assembled and the Advisory Committee of the Amalgamated Association had secured carriages and a brass band. Preceded by a big American flag was the Advisory Board, followed by a procession of all the locked out men, which marched through the streets of Homestead. Entrance into the Carnegie mill was made this afternoon by a representative of the Associated Press. In walking through the mills twice he found, by actual count, 65 men inside the works, exclusive of uniformed men. Fires were burning in open hearth of department No. 1, and in the armor plate department, but in neither was there more than half a dozen men. Two locomotives were in operation in the yards, and in one place what seemed to be six red hot, nearly made of nearly heated armor plates were seen. This was the sum total of everything bearing resemblance to new product that could be observed. Steam was up in nearly all the stationary engines throughout the establishment, but for what purpose was not apparent.

Work Resumed at Cour d'Alene.

WALLACE, Idaho, July 20.—Work has been resumed at all the mines in Cour d'Alene. The wages have been fixed at $3 50 for skilled miners and $3 per day for shovellers, with the right to board and lodge where they please. The presence of troops is a guarantee that the men can work for whom they please without becoming members of any organization. The action of the Homestead strikers, whose deeds were commented upon in violent anachronistic language by such men as Breen, Dallas, Poynton and O'Brien, stirred up the evil passions of ignorant miners, whom they ruled with a rod of iron. On the 13th the strike assumed its most dangerous phase, and nine owners are virtually held prisoners and three hundred non-union workmen were in the hands of men capable of shooting them to death at the command of their leaders. It is regarded here that Gen. Carlin's delay at Cataldo until the non-union men could be sent out saved many lives as well as much valuable property. It is believed that every threat made by the strikers that day would have been carried out had the troops advanced. The miners considered their fight won when the non-union men left, never dreaming they would return within two days. Before they could recover from their surprise Deputy Marshals were pointing them out to soldiers, who arrested them. Since the 13th inst. there has been no danger whatever, and the sensational reports sent out from here were in most cases gross exaggerations.

In Behalf of the Birds.

The ladies belonging to the German Society for the Prevention of Wholesale Slaughter of Birds for the Purpose of Millinery, which is under the protection of Duchess Wilhelm of Mecklenburg, are forming a signed petition, which is to be presented to the queen of Italy during her visit to Berlin, begging her majesty to use her influence to prevent the constant slaughter of small birds in Italy, where many of the most beautiful species have, in consequence of this slaughter, become extinct.

The First Colored Novelist.

The first novel ever produced by a colored woman is the work of Sarah E. Farro, a negress of about twenty-six years of age, who lives in Chicago. She says that her favorite authors are Holmes, Thackeray and Dickens. She is not the only woman of her race who has had success in literary work, for Ida B. Willis, of Washington, has written and published short stories, and Mrs. C. W. Matthews and Mrs. S. Monell are both known by their good work on newspapers.

An Eight Thousand Dollar Job.

Miss Rideout, of California, is one of the women now at work on the exposition grounds at Chicago. Having won by competitive test the right to make the groups of statuary that are to ornament the roof of the Woman's building, she has arranged her studio in Horticultural hall, and is at work upon the two groups and one spandrel, which are to be reproduced several times in the scheme of decoration. Miss Rideout will receive $8,200 for her work.—Chicago Letter.

A Wisconsin Innovation.

Some unique features were introduced at the wedding of Miss Angie May Parfitt to the Rev. Albert W. Bolt, at Oakfield. Besides the maid of honor, best man, four bridesmaids and four ushers, Miss Frances Darling, of Appleton, acted the part of Queen Venus, dressed in classic robes, with a jeweled crown on her head. Her part was to bring the minister from some hidden retreat.—Milwaukee Journal.

Her Last Wish.

Mrs. Harriet Sanford, who died recently at Plymouth, Mass., at the age of ninety, was, in accordance with her wishes, not to be buried until the sun had gone down on the day set for her burial. Mrs. Sanford several years ago went to Bristol, picked out her tombstone and had it lettered and put in place in the cemetery.

Not Afraid of the Unlucky Number.

Thirteen girl graduates from Mount Auburn Young Ladies' institute, of Cincinnati, banqued on Saturday night, defying in every possible way omens of evil. They waited under a ladder, broke a mirror, used umbrellas in the house, had thirteen waiters and caused the orchestra to play thirteen pieces.

The Wearing of shoes with soles heavy enough to prevent a cooling of the feet is extremely important.

The extent to which the wearing of thin soled shoes prevails in the winter months, especially among ladies, is calculated to make us wonder at the endurance of human life.

Promotion Well Deserved.

Miss Eliza Gordon Browning has just been elected librarian of the Indianapolis public library. This position is one of great responsibility. The institution is a large circulating library with a full corps of assistants, and it is soon to be removed to a magnificent new building now in process of erection. Divine Service by Telephone.

The mayor of Nottingham, accompanied by several members of the corporation and other leading men of the town, recently attended divine service in a novel fashion. The meeting house was the local exchange of the National Telephone Company, but the service in which they participated was conducted at Christ church, Nottingham, fifty-one miles away, the communication being of course by telephone.

They sat on each side of the long table on which thirty receivers were placed, while at the church end were eight transmitters—two in the belfry, two in the choir, two in the reading desk, and two in the pulpit, switched on and off as exigencies required—an arrangement which has been in operation for some weeks for the edification of Birmingham subscribers. The Nottingham congregation were able to hear the bells very distinctly, and the responses and other musical portions of the service, while the preacher, having a clear voice and deliberate utterance, was very audible, and his sermon was listened to with close attention.—London Tit-Bits.

While legal proceedings as to the ownership of the famous Red Rock caverns, below Menton, in which has been recently found a still further group of neolithic skeletons of a giant man, are still pending, an almost equally interesting discovery has been made in a deep railway cutting at Paris, where the workmen ran upon a huge Merovingian cemetery of the sixth century. Already there have been uncovered nearly 600 tombs, extending over an area of 2½ acres, yielding a hitherto unheard of mass of carved sarcophagi, knives, spears, vases, ornaments and pottery of unique shapes and styles of decoration.

It is recalled now that the tiny hamlet of Andrey, in the generations succeeding the introduction of Christianity by Genevieve and Clovis, was an important missionary center. The expected scientific examination of these multitudinous remains will throw a flood of light on the origins of the church among all ranks.—Paris Letter.

Long Gowns. In making over a lace gown or silk draped with net the net may be freshened by rinsing it in diluted alcohol and winding carefully on a board to dry. The silk undershirt should be cut like shape with a bias ruffle on the edge. The drapery net is hung over this, form widths being enough to arrange gracefully without too much front fullness, as plain effects are still most desirable. This should be built up with shorter than the silk skirt, as nets are sure to sag a little. The protuberant waist for this dress is a short corsege, pointed front and back, with a jet trimmed corselet fastened at one side and hooked to the other.

Black satin ribbons may be brought from side seams along the edge of bodice arranged to fall in long loops and ends over the net. These lace gowns may be made exceedingly dressy with jet at neck and wrists, small ribbon bows or any other black trimmings.—Good Housekeeping.

A Clever Granddaughter. Thursday was the occasion of one of the most memorable and interesting celebrations ever witnessed in Ripley, being the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling and dedication of a bronze bust of the Rev. John Rankin, the famous pioneer abolitionist. This bust was modeled by Mrs. Ellen Copp, of the Chicago art school, daughter of Dr. Andrew Rankin and granddaughter of the Rev. John Rankin, and a lady who has achieved a high reputation for her art work. The event was also under the occasion of a reunion of the Rankin family, and was attended by many relatives and friends from far and near.—Ripley (O.) Bee.

It was Mr. Emerson who said "the first wealth is health," and it was wise that the modern philosopher who said that, "the blood is the life." The system, like the clock, runs down. It needs winding up. The blood gets poor and scores of diseases result. It needs a tonic to enrich it.

A certain wise doctor, after years of patient study, discovered a medicine which purified the blood, gave tone to the system, and made man—tired, nervous, brain-weary men—feel like new. He called it his "Golden Medical Discovery." It has been sold for years, sold by the millions of bottles, and people found such satisfaction in it that Dr. Pierce who discovered it, now feels warranted in selling it under a positive guarantee of its doing good in all cases.

Perhaps it is the medicine for you. Your's wouldn't be the first case of scrofula or salt-rheum, skin disease or lung disease, it has cured when nothing else would. The trial's worth making, and costs nothing. Money refunded if it don't do you good.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time I was a great sufferer. Every thing I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. Then in a few moments that horrid distress would come on and I would have to eat and suffer again. I took a little of your medicine, and felt much better, and after taking a little more August Flower my dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I have never had the first sign of it. I can eat anything without the least fear of distress. I wish all that are afflicted with that terrible disease or the troubles caused by it would try August Flower, as I am satisfied there is no medicine equal to it."

Not Complimentary.

By the way, I am told that the peers are in favor of the so called political rights of women. I would, therefore, suggest to women that they should pass a bill enabling either peers or peeresses to sit in the house of lords.

I do not think that any one would oppose this, for it is a matter of the supreme indifference to the community whether men or women sit in that august assembly. It might be left to each peer and his wife to settle which of them is to be the legislator.—Henry Labouchere in London Truth.

The Time to Clean House. The work of getting away to the seashore is not an easy one. Aside from the mere task of engaging an abiding place for the summer outing, the labor of preparing for the summer often really overtaxes the strength of many housekeepers, especially as it is too often begun some time after the campaign of spring cleaning. Others very wisely postpone the "spring cleaning" to the autumn months, when the family have returned from their summer vacation.—Boston Advertiser.
